a serial story of unusual interests to motorists, now running in the advertising columns of newspapers. It is a straightforward account of the process by which Zerolene is manufactured, starting with the selection of the crude and concluding with the delivery of the finished lubricant at the garage or at one of the Standard's red, white and blue service stations.

It is said that the present series, which is written in simple, non-technical language, is based on a treatise on automobile lubrication, which will shortly be issued in booklet form for public distribution.

The difference in power developed by a properly lubricated car and one which is lubricated by an inferior or unsuitable oil, is often as much as 20%, according to the Standard Oil Engineers. Much is lost through incorrect lubrication.

Stability and "oiliness" are also important, of course. According to the Standard Oil Engineers, stability starts with the crude, as only certain crudes have the property of retaining their chemical composition at high temperatures. In preserving the stability of the crude the methods employed in distillation are important. The Standard Oil Company is the only refiner on the Pacific Coast who uses the vacuum process of distillation, by which the lubricating fractions are distilled off at comparatively low temperatures, thereby avoiding "cracking".

Attar Of Roses Is Scarcer And Dearer

SOFIA, Bulgaria, July 12—(Associated Press Mail)—Bulgaria's great attar of roses industry, heretofore one of her principal assets, is in danger of complete collapse. Figures just published show that last year's output of the most fragrant and precious perfume in the world amounted to only 2,000 pounds. This is one-fourth of the pre-war product. At one time Bulgaria produced 95 percent of the world's supply of attar of roses.

The decline in the industry is due partly to an unchecked disease in the rose bushes, partly to the neglect of the gardens as a result of mobilization partly to decreased demand for the product from the United States, but more particularly to profiteering by the middlemen who not only have disposed of the essence at exorbitant prices, but have also ruined the reputation of Bulgarian producers by adulterating the essence.

SHIRT SAVES TRAIN

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

BRANDON, Colorado, Aug. 10—W. H. Jones a motor tourist passing through here from Towner, last night saved a Missouri-Pacific train from a plunging through a bridge that had been washed out near here. Jones who was stalled nearby saw the train approaching and using his shirt, soaked in gasoline, as a torch, averted a serious wreck.

Premiums Offered Mothers Boy Babies

CETTINJE, Montenegro, July 10—(Associated Press Mail)—There has been an alarming decrease in the birthrate of Montenegro, due to the loss during the war of so many of the "Black Mountain's" fighting men. The government is offering premiums to mothers who bear male children. The females now greatly outnumber the males.

The incentives offered by the government to mothers of male children have resulted in pathetic appeals from the untutored peasant women to the American Red Cross nurses to give them "some medicine to make a boy."

In Montenegro boys are considered much more valuable than girls, and the constant prayer of the mountain dweller is that she may be blessed with a male child. This disparity in the sexes largely the outgrowth of the days when Turkey held dominion over the Balkans and when the liberty-loving Montenegrins had an ever-present need of men to defend the homeland.

In Montenegro the women do all the work, the men considering manual labor undignified. They feel it their chief duty to carry firearms and swords, talk politics, and prepare for the next war.

ENGLISH WOMAN INTRODUCES NEW MARRIAGE VOWS

LONDON, July 12—(Associated Press Mail)—English women are equalling their American sisters in the scope of their occupations. Women legislators, lawyers, physicians and sculptors are fairly common in both countries. But now London comes along with a woman "marrying parson." She is the Rev. Constance Colman, a graduate of Oxford University, and joint pastor of one of the West End's fashionable churches.

Some women like to be married by Miss Colman; she does not ask them to use the word "obey," in fact tells them to avoid it. She requests the bride and the groom to present each other with a ring, repeating the words:

"As this ring now encircles thy finger, so let my love surround thee all the days of thy life."

Police May Force Women Of Turkey To Dress Alike

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 12—(Associated Press Mail)—Some optimistic and determined Turks are attempting to persuade the women of the land to adopt a standard form of dress. Optimistic because Turkish women seen no more inclined to wear a uniform than would their sisters of London, Paris and New York, and determined because the Committee de la Mode is thinking of calling upon the police for help in carrying out its plans.

"Where are the women who would consent to have imposed upon them an antique and strange costume found today only in museums?" is one of the questions hurled at the reformers. "Where is the woman who would recommend such a costume to another? Can a Turkish woman of old world Stamboul dress like a modern harem of aristocratic Pera? Nationalist fanaticism is an excellent thing, but only within limits."

The committee, in answer to these and sundry other attacks, has announced darkly it is working on a scheme to put over its project, the application of which will be placed in the hands of the municipal police.

New National Hymn Sought By Canadians

VICTORIA, B. C., July 15—(Associated Press Mail)—A new Canadian national anthem written by Hon. Mr. Justice Archer Martin, of the Court of Appeal was formally endorsed by the Native Sons of Canada, at a meeting here recently. The new song has been named "Canada, Our Canada," and musicians are now working out the score. The verses are as follows:

Canada, Our Canada
Hail! stately country of our sires!
To thee we light the altar fires,
Ne'er to be quenched till life expires,
Canada, our Canada.

Each true son's heart glows with the flame
Of patriot pride to see thy name,
Writ large upon the role of fame,
Canada, our Canada.

CHORUS—
Canada, we hail thee!
Whoever may assail thee,
Never shall we fail thee,
Canada, our Canada!

From East to St. Elias' towers,
The cry comes through the awakened hours—
Arise, assert thy manhood's powers,
Canada, our Canada.

The time has come to take thy place,
Among the nations, face to face,
Equal at last with every race,
Canada, our Canada.
